International Trademark Registration

Trademarks

Trademarks are such crucial assets for businesses that their development and management process becomes increasingly complex.

itialuS provides International Trademark Registration services managed by expert Trademark consultants and attorneys, ensuring a personalized approach and timely result.

International Trademark Registration is the process of registering a trademark abroad and obtaining protection in one or more countries through a single application.

This process can be made easier with the Madrid Protocol system, a registration process administered through the World Intellectual Property Office (WIPO). This system allows companies to apply for multiple regional trademarks in one go, so that a single application can be used to file for trademarks in over 90 countries. It is also possible to add more countries to the registration at a later date. Other benefits include the swift and relatively cost-effective nature of the procedure.

Whether you need to register your trademark in a single country or obtain worldwide protection, our consultants and trademark team will help you develop an approach that best fits your brand(s) and business.
